Experience Nukutepipi

Private Island

Immerse yourself in the magic of our atoll

For the first time, the wonder of Nukutepipi can be experienced one booking at a time.

Once reserved exclusively for full private buyouts, this secluded island in French Polynesia — imagined by Guy Laliberté, visionary founder of Cirque du Soleil — is now available for private access. We invite you to experience its unmatched beauty, personalized service, and the freedom to disconnect in complete privacy.

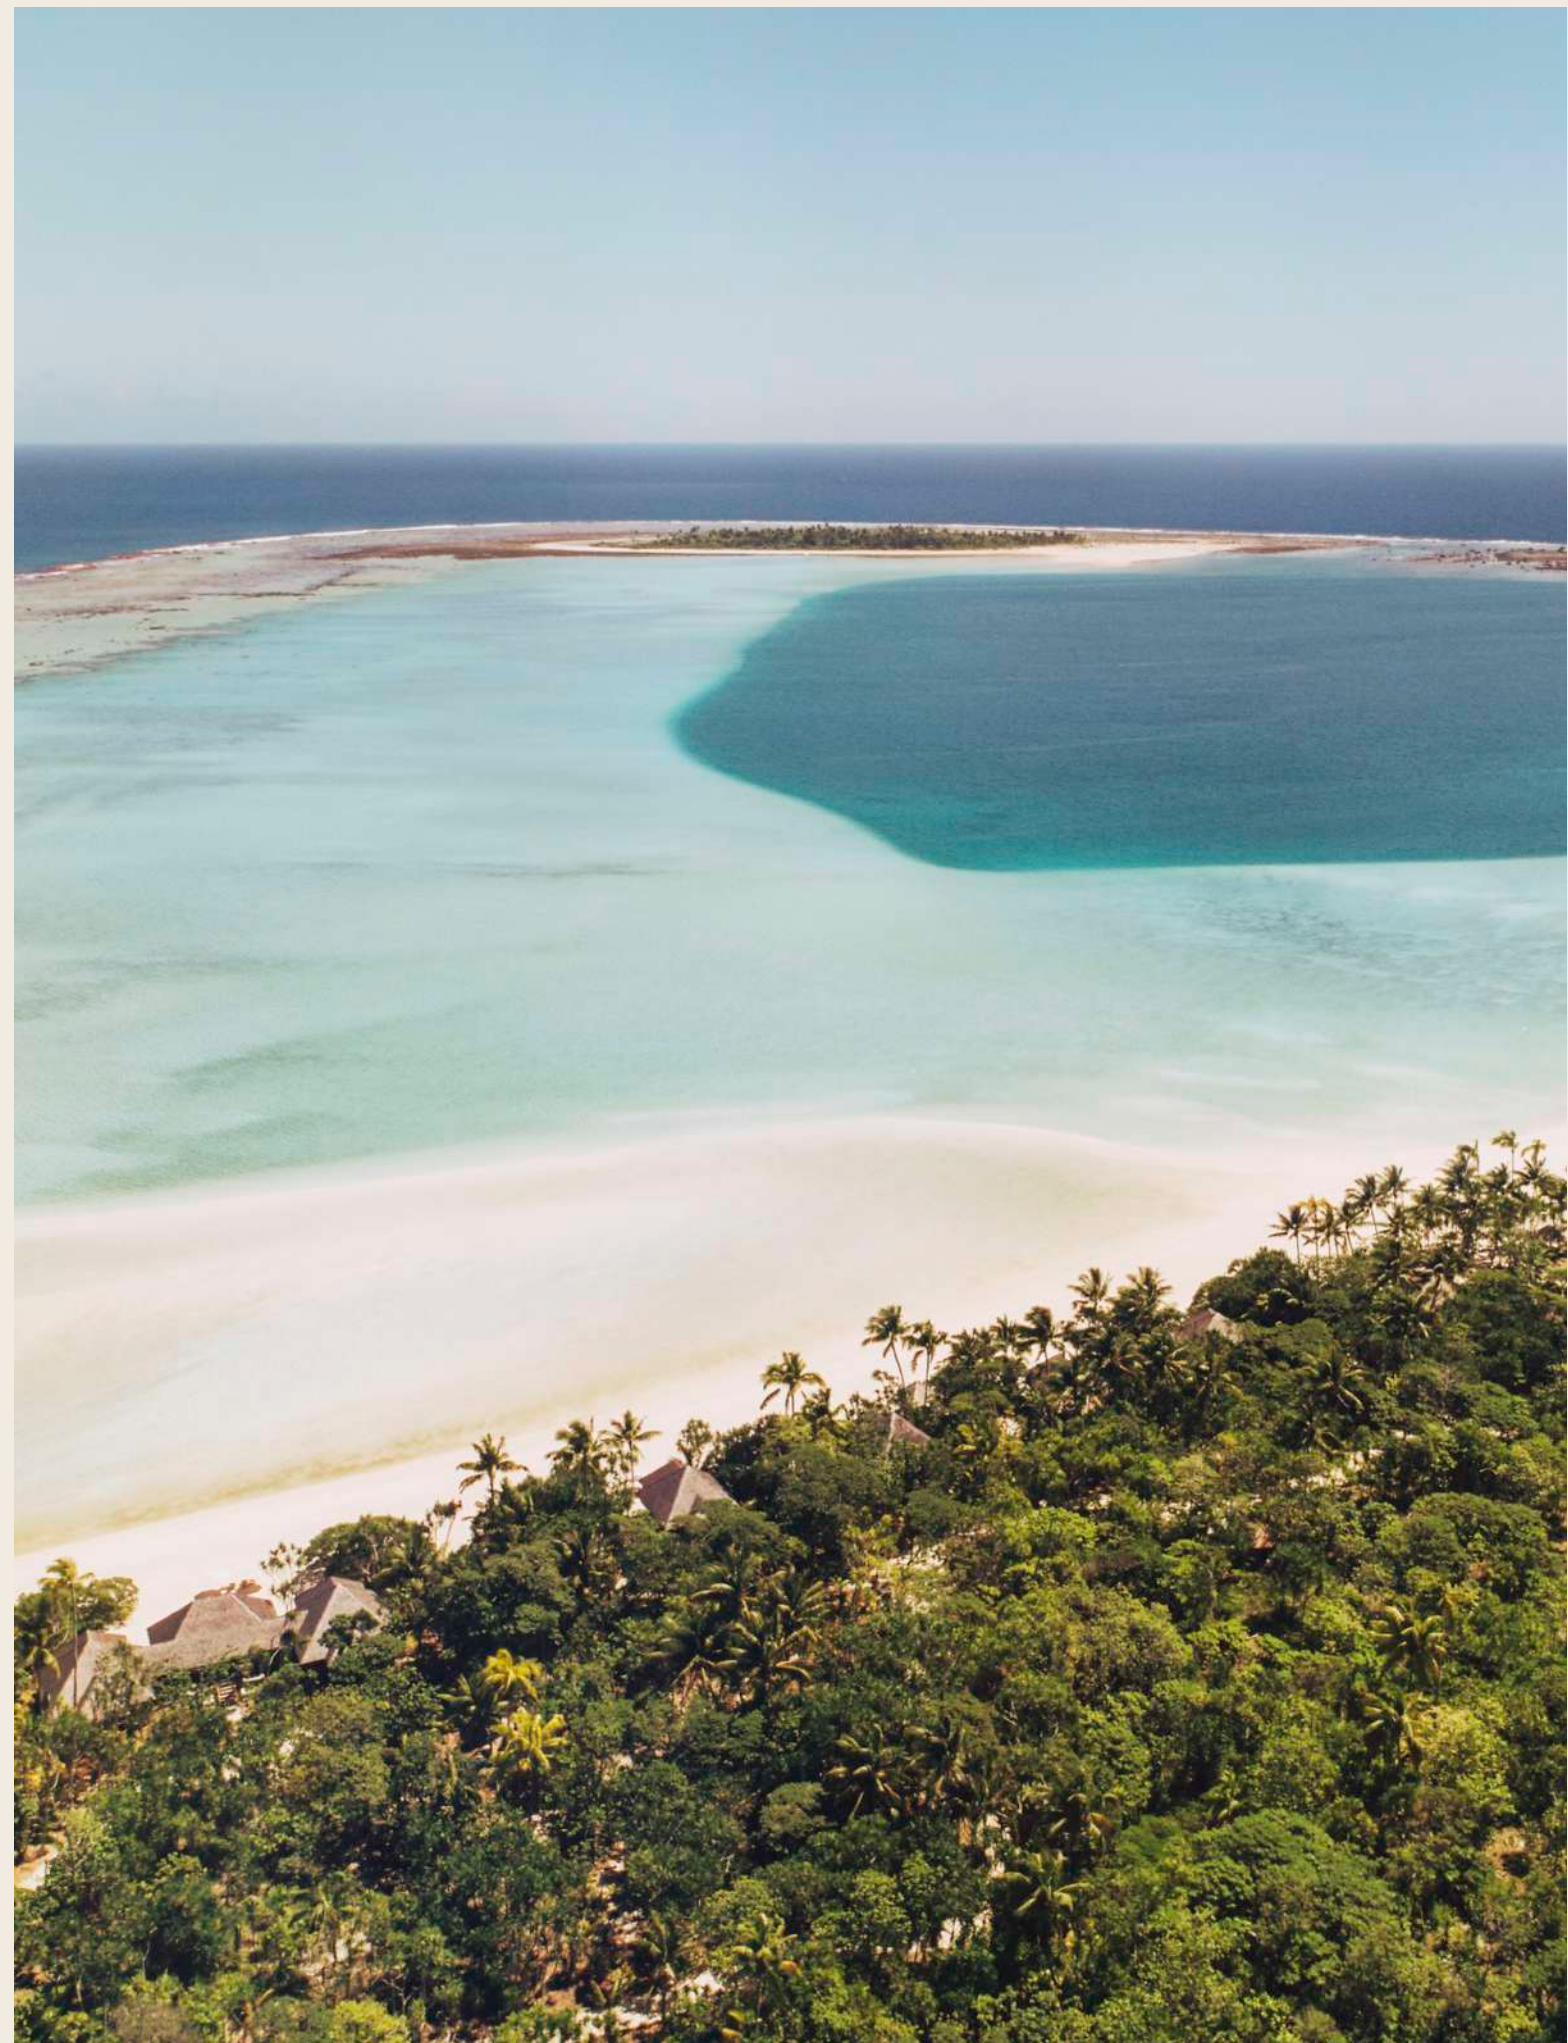

Reaching paradise

Nukutepipi is located 6,000 km from the closest continent and less than 1,000 km from Bora Bora and Tahiti. It is the seventh smallest atoll of the French Polynesia Tuamotu Archipelago and measures approximately 5.6 km.

To reach the island, there are year-round direct flights to Tahiti from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Honolulu, Paris, Tokyo and Auckland.

Transfers to and from Tahiti (via Papeete domestic airport) to Nukutepipi are provided by private chartered flights.

THE ATOLL

Pure bliss

Nukutepipi is a mysterious island hidden deep within the Pacific Ocean, where only the fortunate few have ever set foot. Its crystal-clear lagoon, framed by white sand beaches and lush greenery, is one of the world's most exclusive and enigmatic escapes.

For years, this secret haven has been reserved solely for its founder and a select few—until now.
